BALTIMORE & OHIO

RAILROAD! THIS GREAT WORK OF INTERnal improvement (379 miles from Wheeling to Baltimore, and 403 to Washington,) was opened to the Ohio river in January, 1856, and has now been fully tested and approved, both as a freight and passenger route. This road is located in a romantic country, is solidly constructed, fully equipped, and carefully managed, and is thus rendered an attractive as well as asafe line for travelers. The late completion of the Central Ohio Road, from Columbus to the Ohio river, near Wheeling, adds greatly to the importance of this route, offering, as it does, the most thorough Kaliroad connection with the entire West.

Deposition of Raymond Tischinger.

Joseph Croxton states on oath, that he went from his house to the First Ward polls between 9 and 10 o'clock, on the merning of the 6th day of August. That he stayed at the polls about twenty minutes, and in that time he saw as many as twenty-five Germans knocked down with clubs and slung-shots in the hands of persons who were strangers to deponent. Then I returned hone; was requested to take Dr. Metcalfe's bnggy down to Preston street. On returning, between Preston and Jackson streets, met a crowd of abont forty persons, all having yellow tickets stuck in the bands of their hats, and clubs in their hands.—They were knocking down every German they met, as far as deponent could see. On coming to the corner of Jackson and Green streets, I saw the crowd pursuing three Germans, throwing stones at them, and crying, "Kill the d—d Dutch sons of bitches." Deponent saw no aggressions or defence made on the part of the Germans in either instance.

The proof is clear that the polls were taken and kept by an armed mob, that scouts of miscreants Irish, stone their houses, and destroy their property. They met with resistance at last, about noon, on the corner of Shelby and Walnut streets, where some foreigners, armed with guns, undertook to defend themselves. Then went forth the yell of distress. Germans were shooting down innocent Americans! The mob collected from all directions, and after routing the Germans from their own houses, they pitched into a brewery, where they destroyed the fixtures, burned up the building, and drank up the liquor, and wanted to burn Whilst these outrages were going on, a mob proceeded along Jefferson street, spreading the lie as they went, that the Germans had taken the polls of the First Ward with guns. The Know-Nothings make huge calculations on the gullibility of the people. They profess an inase devotion to all the virtues-social, moral, tical, and religious. Their piety, especially, is a conspicuous element in their platforms. They assume to be the guardians and propagandists of undefiled and orthodox faith in theology. It is made a leading element in their political catechism. Moreover, the instruments by which these high purposes are to be effected, are to be of the most exalted purity. None but men of the most disinterested and patriotic characteristics are to be selected for office. Office-hunters and demagognes are most emphacically denounced.

Such are the pretences they put forth to disguise the objects of their organization, which, in this organization everywhere proves the truth of sixty dollars.

NEW MUSIC-A YOUNG COMPOSER .-- We are ery much indebted to our young friend, Charlie Wood, for a copy of "The Old Play-Ground." a ong-words by E. J. Allen, music by Charlie. This is his first attempt at composing for the public, and we may say with truth, he has produced a piece of music containing many merits, and showing that he possesses talent of a high order; if he properly cultivate it, he will rank high among the sers of this country.

The Old Play-Ground is a simple song, with room allowed for display, nor indeed discord. It s one of those ballads designed for the family ircle, and will rank with "Ben Bolt," though not possessing all the beauties of that parlor favorite. It is not by any means faultless-for though there may be no violation of the rules of composition in the construction of the melody, or the arrangement of the harmony; still, a piece may be faultless; may be wanting in spirit, in flow, in elequence, in feeling, in music. Our young friend's first effort will stand the above test pretty well .-Its melody is pleasing-moves off with considerable spirit, and touches the heart with no little amount of feeling. The prelude, accompaniment and interlude are all exceedingly simple, embodying no difficulties which a scholar of three months annot master after a few trials,

We congratulate our young friend on his succe and the brilliant field before him, full of unexplored beauties and glories; with study and care his future will be one of profit to himself and happiness to the lovers of music, pliances for the enterprise.

The Gonzales Inquirer states that several planters in that county are producing sea island cotton.
There are four hundred and fifty-nine acres plant ed this season, which the Inquirer thinks will yield better than other cotton. It estimates the pro-duct on many farms at 500 pounds to the acre, A sample of this crop has been compared with ome South Carolina sea island, which brought fifty cents per pound last year, and was pronounced but little inferior.

The latest advices concerning the crops say the cotton, in many places, is rotting, in consequence of the wet weather. The seed is sprouting in the ripe bolls, and the young bolls are dropping off. A return of dry weather would put a termination to this damage.

In July several officers of the war vessel Chimere were promenading the streets of Port au Prince. Challenged by some sentinels, who ordered them to throw down their cigars, they, believing that they were near a powder magazine, instantly obeyed the order. "Hats off! don't you understand! hats off before the palace of the Emperor!" cried the sentinels, and on their refusal to salute the palace of the chief, who was on a visit to the little Goave, the sentinels were about to take them to prison. The same scene, the same noise, the same outrage ensued as in the case of the officers of the Chimere. But now the Emperor appeared at the window, and when he heard what the matter was, he cried out, 'You white curs, don't you know me? Sainte my house or I'll put you in prison.' The advisers of His Imperial Highness told him that his orders ould not be executed without the gravest conse uences. It was not, however, until a parley wenty minutes that the soldiers released M. de

Not only did this moderation fail to obtain favor in the Cabinet of his Majesty, but instead of attempting to excuse the insult, the diplomatic advisers of the crown wrote to M. Know-Nothing Withdrawals. WILKES COUNTY, GA.

TO THE PUBLIC .- We, the undersigned, a portion of whom had previously acted with the Whig, and a portion with the Domocratic—but more recently with the Kuow-Nothing or American party, having as we conceive, under a misguided zeal, joined the latter party, but having retraced and withdrawn from it, take this method of giving some of the asons why we have done so.

1st. We withdraw because of the monstrous ob ligation, which bound us, under a heavy penalty support the nominee of the party, however un worthy the candidate or repugnant to our personal feelings.

2d. One of the principles of this party aims a blow at the foundation of true liberty, in prescribblow at the foundation of true liberty, in proscribing men for conscience's sake.

3d. It is double-faced in several particulars. Its members profess to stand on the Georgia Platform, whilst they are secon to make the Union paramount to energy contingency, and the two principles are as opposite as inidnight and noon.

Again: Now that the dark plans of this mysterious Order are being laid bare to the outside public, what have they disclosed? viz: That the lic, what have they disclosed? viz: That the upper ten" have not imposed upon them the horrid oath that each and all of us have taken. Language fails to express our disgust and utter contempt for such a monstrous concern. These, with other good reasons, have determined us to leave the party. We will now state the position we occupy in a political view. Principles and not names, shall be our motive for action. We fearlossly assert that we stand on the Georgia platform of 1850, and that cach and every one of us will act with, and vote for the Democratic or anti-Know-Nothing candidates at the approaching election in October, laying aside all party feeling which may heretofore have exist-ed, whether Democratic, Whig, Southern Rights, or Union. We are urged to this because we believe the Democratic or anti-Know-Nothing party is the only true National party in existence, and the only ne that will save the Constitution in tact. Thos. H. Strother, Robt. W. Quarles, A. T. Holliday, Walker Hawes, J. P. McCorp, George Poss, Jas. R Elliott, Wilks R. Wellborn, Wm. Woodal.

MORGAN COUNTY, Ga., Sept., 1855. Wc, the undersigned, have become satisfied that it is a duty to ourselves and to the country, to dissolve our connection with the political party com-monly called the Know-Nothing or American party. In leaving the Order, we carry no unkind feeling towards its members, but are impelled to this course from experimental knowledge that its objects and principles are not those which induced us soveral Councils of which we have been members, to crase our names from the books, and give us a showing of dismission.

THE FAIR .- The Horticultural Exhibition beins to-day at the Hall, corner of Walnut and Second. It will be well attended of course.

ELEGANT RETORT .- The New York Times says hat Senator Toombs (just returned by the Atlanic) fell in with Lord John Russell while in Engand, and assured his lordship that Cuba would be coured to freedom after the next United States lection. His lordship ventured to intimate that ingland might object, when the Senator replied, n effect, "England be d-d."

Win. Walker, one of the principal men of he Wyandots, whom we met many years age. when the first lick was given to the Sandnsky and Perrysburg Railroad, is spoken of as a candidate or the next Congress in Kansas. Mr. Walker is in educated and intelligent man, and possesses onsiderable wealth.

COAL IN MICHIGAN .- A coal company has been rganized in Michigan, and thirteen hundred acres fland, comprising the beds, have been purchased. one of the beds is upon the Central railroad, anoher on the Detroit and Milwankie railway, and he third on the Detroit and Lancaster plank HORRID MURDER. - The Sparta Times says that a Wednesday of last week, the wife of Turner G. loyd was most brutally murdered, on the Cumberand Mountain, about twenty-five miles from Spara, on the road to Knoxville. It is said she had carted to ride to a neighbor's, was missed in the vening, and search being made all that night, her ody was found next morning. Her head had been ushed in a most awful manner. Suspicion rest pon a runaway negro, who came very near being aptured in Sparts, on Tuesday night. He is a ge mulatto, about six feet high-escaped bareeaded and bare-footed, and is said to have a wife n Knoxville. We hope that the Governor will offer a large reward for the apprehension of the perpetrator of this awful murder. Our mountain tizens, we know, will be vigilant in bringing the vretch to punishment.

OUTRAGEOUS, IF TRUE .- We heard the other lay that a young boy, an orphan, charged with tealing, was arrested by a set of ruffians, in a por-ion of Calhonn county known as the "Fork," and ost brutually murdered in the following manner uspecting that the boy was guilty, they attempt-l to extert a confession by threatening to hang im. All the preliminary steps were taken—the pling bent, the rope adjusted and the threa apling bent, the rope adjusted and the threat-till pending: yet the boy would not acknowledge aving committed the theft. Justabout this time lady happened to be riding near by. On seeing the condition of the boy, she fainted and fell to the round. The men, forgetting the condition of the boy, ran to her assistance, and, of course, the sap-ing flew up, anspending him, and before they ould return to his assistance the horrible deed We don't know how true this is, but f it is so, those who were engaged in it should suf or the full extent of the law Coffeeville (Miss.) Herald.

The above furnishes additional evidence of the awlessness of the times. What right had these uffians, on suspicion of guilt, to mnrder a boy? If there is any justice in Calhoun county, we shall expect to hear of the legal but terrible punshment of the fiendish scoundrels.

BOLD ROBBERY BY A WOMAN.—Mr. John Saulch, hatter, No. 37 Chatham street, and Coundiman of the Fifth District, was on Wednesday muleted out of a valuable gold watch, chain and eal, valued at $160. It was, it appears, the revival of an old dodge which from long desuetude was generally supposed to have become obsolete. The acts are those: At the alarm of fire in Gold street, Wednesday, shortly alter 1 o'clock, Mr. Baulch, who is one of the Assistant Engineers of the Fire Department left the storate or to the fire he Fire Department, left the store to go to the fire Before leaving he handed his watch to the boy in he store, with instructions to give it to his (Mr. B.'s father. The boy—as Mr. Bauleh's father appened to be up stairs at the time—laid the watch, till his return, in a pigeon hole of the desk. A woman, meanwhile, was in the rear part of the tore, writing a note—she having previously asked corrussion to do so. ermission to do so. As Mr. Baulch went out she sked the boy if he would allow her to step to the cesk to finish her writing. She was occupied here but a moment or two, when, after express ng herself greatly thankful for the favor tendered aer, she left the store. She had not been gone over five minutes, when Mr. Bauleh returned from he fire, and asked his father, who had then come lown stairs, for his watch. He said he knew nothng about it, when the boy explained the fact of als having put it in the pigeon-hole of the desk. Mr. Baulch looked there, but found the watch was missing. The woman, they think, must have taken the property. The boy was unable to describe the woman, other than that she was a midile-aged female, genteelly dressed, very polite and seemed honest. New York Times, 14th.

A BRAVE BOY-THRILLING INCIDENT. — Mr. Patterson, of the Battle Ground, gavo us the pariculars of the drowning at Americus, which we mentioned on Tuesday. The name of the man irowned was Clawson P. Birch. He, in company with Samuel Bacheler and son—a lad about 12 years of age, had been from home nearly a week years of age, had been from home nearly a week, buying stock hogs, and were returning home on saturday evening, each of them on horseback. They undertook to ford the river, which had rapidly swollen by the heavy rains, causing the horse's to swim. Birch and Bacheler were both thrown from their horses, in the middle of the river—the former, not being able to swim, was drowned. Bacheler, though stanned by a blow from his horse's head, succeeded in reaching the shore, and on looking back for his commanions. hore, and on looking back for his companions, iscovered his son clinging to his saddle, his horse leing drowned, and floating down with the current. The father followed on down the beach of the river, encouraging his boy to stick to the saddle, in hopes that he would soon float to shoal water.

The noble little hero did stick to his saddle, sounding the stream with his riding-whip every now and then, for three miles, to find whether the water was sufficiently shallow to justify him in dismounting his dead horse, and wading for shore. Finding the water too deep for him to fathon with his little riding-whip, he would announce the fact to his father, by saying, "I can't touch the bottom yet, I'a." Thus he navigated the "water-logged" eraft for three miles, and at last lodged against a troe, and sprang ashore. On taking the bridle from the horse, it was found that it had the lock-jaw, and its mouth had to be pried open to get out the bit. As soon as the mouth of the horse was opened, the careass sunk to the bottom. But for the lock-jaw, the body of the horse would not have floated, and to this circumstance, in addition to the little hero's bravery, he is indebted for his life.

A "Spiritual Spring."—Some account has already been published of the discovery of a very remarkable spring in Henniker, 18 or 20 miles from this city, near the Cantoccook Valley Railroad. It has been made a sort of rendezvous by a number of men and women, who have the desire to "go beyond what is written" and investigate mysteries which God intended they should let cently passed over the railroad to the Henniker spring, on a Sunday, conveying quite a number of our Concord spiritnalists, who have made the delusion a sort of religious belief, and established a new sect on their own special account. Over 100 have assembled at this spring, we are credibly informed, for the last few Sabbaths. Verily, the day of humbur here in Narbath and results the day of humbug, here in New England, so have but just commenced !-N. H. Patriot.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. The steamer Roanoke, from Richmond, had two asses of yellow fever on board and one death.—

She is detained at quarantine. There is much excitement concerning the con duct of the officers of the Crescent City yesterday for violating the quarantine regulations. The steamer had been ordered down to quarantine, and the Board of Health had forbidden any passing to and fro from her. But in spite of these orders she persisted in taking in cargo and passengers from tugs and quarantine, and prepared for her de-partnre.

The Health Officer applied to the Commander of the Cyane, who immediately armed and manned two boats and proceeded towards the steamer, but the latter, in the meantime, had got up steam, and put to sea.

The pilot and Commander will both be arrested on their return.

MR. SOLOMONS: Being compelled to wear Spectacles, I have never been able toget a pair but what made my eyes ache—I have tried agreat many glasses, but always day or candlelight for any length of time, with the greatest ease and comfort. Airs. Wells is very mnet pleased with her glasses.

I remain yours, truly.

C. WELLS,

I remain yours, truly,
No. 864 Jefferson street, next door to Preston LOUISVILLE, Jan. 18, 1855.

MR. SOLOMONS: Sir—When you first arrived in this city, I called with Mrs. Beattie at your office, and pur chased four pairs of your Patent Spectacles. We found them superior to any we had ever used before. They realized more than we could have expected. We can now see as comfortably as when a girl and boy.

I remain yours, respectfully,
J. A. BEATTIE,
MRS. J. A. BEATTIE, Fourth street.

Mr. Solomons can be seen at his office, on Fourth st between Main and Market, over Raymond & Patton Drug Store. 1225 dlm.

R. SOLOMONS: ABOUT FOUR months since I purchased a pair your spectacles and at that time could not read without them. I now find my sight so much improved by their use, that I can read ordinary newspaper print without them as well as I could before I need spectacles.

MR. SOLOMONS: Having noticed your advertisement in the Lonisville and Lexington papers, I called at your office with my wife to purchase for her a pair of your improved spectacles, with which, I am happy to say, she can see to thread the finest needle, (which she has not done before in five years,) or sew and read for any length of time by day or candle-light, saw well as she ever could. She has purchased several pairs of spectacles in the last five years, but they invariably caused the every to become weak and tired after using for a short time—No amount would induce her to part with those she purchased from you. Yours, respectfully.
